St. Nicholas Loaves and Fishes Community Food Program

The St. Nicholas Loaves and Fishes Community Food Program is a nonprofit organization established to serve the hungry in Paradise by providing:

- Free hot meals for all, with a focus on seniors, disabled veterans, children, and the homeless populations (currently serving almost 20,000 meals annually);
- Bi-monthly groceries for approximately 85 low-income families;
- Nutrition education;
- Free job training for the food services industry;
- Community resources outreach, including help with temporary housing, free clothes closet, and employment assistance.

Additionally, Loaves and Fishes provides opportunities for social interaction in a supportive, fun and safe environment for people of low income, those with disabilities, the elderly, veterans and the underserved/undereducated.

This program is run by dedicated volunteers and depends on the generous donations it receives from individuals, organizations, and business in our community.

Standard of Ethics and Conduct

Members of Loaves and Fishes strive to recognize, promote and improve needs of the community. Horn of Plenty Tournament sponsors agree to be honor-bound by these standards of business conduct and ethics:

- Conduct business with honesty, integrity and fairness with respect to customers, clients and employees alike.
- Support the ideas and goals of Loaves and Fishes, as well as support the community in general, in a constructive and positive manner.
- Be accessible and accountable to customers or clients and make every reasonable effort to act in the customer or client's best interest.
- Conduct business with strict adherence to the laws of the state where located and to specific business or professional codes of ethics and in accordance with generally accepted business practices.
- Do not discriminate based upon race, color, creed, religion, national origin, age, disability, material status, gender or sexual orientation.
- Do not use or condone advertising that is; untrue, misleading, deceptive, fraudulent, falsely disparaging of competitors; contains insincere offers to sell; which as a whole, may be misleading or result in misrepresentation by direct statement, inference or omission.
- Be responsible at all times for truthful and non-deceptive advertising and promotion regarding their business.
